Furious mum slams 'joke' sentence for dog attack

COURT REPORTER

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE mother of a teenager who suffered an horrific arm injury after being savaged by a dog has branded a £250 compensation order "a joke."

District judge Paul Booty ordered Tamlin Kester Presland, who was not the dog's owner but was walking it at the time of the attack, to pay the money to 14-year-old Brandon Elston.

The youngster was left with a severed artery and 5cm flesh wound after he was bitten by the black Labrador - named Blade - on March 14. He was kept in hospital for four days.

Later the dog also bit a policeman who had called at the home of its owner.

After the hearing, Brandon's mum Sharon, of Mark Hall Moors, Harlow, said: "I'm fuming. I think it's a joke. The judge should see what the dog's done to my son's wrist."

She said the wound left by the dog went almost half way round her son's wrist.

Presland (40) of Bramble Rise, Harlow, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to allowing a dog to be dangerously out of control.

The court made an order that in future the animal should be muzzled and kept on a lead

ANGRY: Sharon Elston and Brandon, pictured a few days after he was bitten on the arm in a dog attack, above in public. The judge also indicated that there should be a "contingent" destruction order on the dog which would mean if it is not muzzled and kept on a lead it could be destroyed.

However, that cannot be imposed until the owner has had an opportunity to make representations to the court. A date for the hearing has been set for May 29. Prosecutor Barry Hargreaves said Brandon had been walking in the opposite direction with his cousin when the dog growled at him. As he went to move away from the animal, Brandon was bitten on the arm. "He required surgery and stitches and is now in fear of dogs," said Mr Hargreaves. "When a police officer went round to talk to the owner the dog bit the officer but didn't cause him any injury as he pulled his arm away."

The court heard that after spending three hours at Princess Alexandra Hospital, Brandon was transferred to Broomfield Hospital in Chelmsford, where he underwent surgery. He spent two weeks off school recovering.

Hassan Baig, representing the defendant, said in mitigation: "He doesn't know the dog well; he was acting neighbourly."

"It had never acted in any way before to cause concern. Had he known, he wouldn't have agreed to take out the dog."

Announcing the sentence, the judge said: "The 14-year-old suffered very nasty injuries resulting in stitches and now has a fear of dogs."

"I have listened carefully to what's been said and I do have an element of sympathy for you. You were out with Blade, it was on a lead and you were not aware of the history of the dog."

"It's difficult to criticise you and the breed of dog is not one which typically comes before the courts. However, the victim suffered really nasty injuries which resulted in stitches and now has a fear of dogs which may or may not go as a result of time."

MPs set for Tesco depot closure talks

The decision by supermarket chain Tesco to close its distribution centre in Harlow with the possible loss of hundreds of jobs is to be debated in Parliament tomorrow (Friday).

Harlow MP Robert Halfon has secured a debate in the House of Commons in which he said he would raise the issue of the treatment of Tesco staff and the financial headaches for those affected by the closure of the depot at Flex Meadow.

Tesco is planning to shut down the centre in August and move staff to a new facility in Dagenham on reduced pay. Employees and workers' union USDAW is currently balloting its members on industrial action.

Mr Halfon said: "I have put this issue in to debate over the last four or five weeks and I am going to be highlighting the plight of Tesco workers and the money that is being lost."

"This is no way to treat loyal workers who have made the distribution centre one of the most successful in the country."

"I think things are going very badly at the distribution centre and I hope this will put more public pressure on Tesco to treat its workers fairly."

Drunk 'menace' hit with ASBO

A MAN branded a "nuisance and menace" to retailers and shoppers because of his drunken antics in the town centre has been given an ASBO.

Igoris Sakalauskas (33), of no fixed address, has been arrested on numerous occasions since 2007 for theft, drunken and disorderly behaviour and assaulting police.

He is now banned from consuming alcohol within 50 metres of any commercial property and barred from entering several town centre shops.

Neighbourhood policing officer PC Tim Knights said: "Igoris (pictured below) is alcohol-dependant and is known to walk into shops in a drunken state at all time of the day and night."

"He has not only harassed shop staff, but also shoppers in the town centre. We hope that publicity of this ASBO will help reassure those who have suffered from his behaviour that we can now monitor his behaviour through this order."

Police probe into badger sett blaze

A POLICE investigation has been launched after yobs tried to destroy a badger sett by starting a fire at its entrance.

At least six badgers are known to inhabit the sett in woodland near The Chase in Newhall, which was found alight on Saturday by a member of the Harlow Badger Group checking on the animals' home.

Firefighters were called to the scene shortly after 9pm and used back pack sprayers to put out the fire and cool the surrounding ground. The fire was extinguished by 9:53pm.

Derek Barry, chairman of the badger group, described the incident as "sickening".

"One of my members alerted me to a fire at one of the lower-

BIANCA CASTRO

level entrances to a multi-entrance sett," he said. "He tried to put out the fire and as soon as I arrived I also tried to put out the flames."

"When I realised that we'd need help, I called the fire brigade who were able to put out the blaze after a while. The fire was clearly deliberate and this is now under investigation as a wildlife crime."

Badgers are a protected species and it is against the law to injure or kill one of the animals or interfere with its sett.

"I believe the people who did this knew exactly what they were doing and wanted to inflict suffering to the badgers in this sett," Mr Barry added.

The Harlow Badger Group, formed in 2010, rescue and release badgers back into the wild and regularly monitor the animal's setts as well as their natural hunting grounds.

Mr Barry said: "If it wasn't for one of our members going to the sett when they did then the situation could have become worse."

"We are now extremely worried that the badgers have suffered smoke inhalation and will be suffering from severe stress."

Anyone with information on suspicious behaviour near a badger sett should report the incident to police on 101 and call the Harlow Badger Hotline on 07751 572175.

SIR, Councillor Anthony Durcan tells us Harlow has no space for more homes and that we have to work with our neighbours on the town's borders (Letters, May 2).
Harlow does, however, have brownfield sites ripe for development. Why not build decent homes for Harlow people to buy or rent, near to amenities and the transport system?

Sometimes it feels as though our present council is engaged in a game of Monopoly - plenty of real estate to hand but not much cash to build on it. Its solution? To sell off parcels of lands and use the profit to plug its own finances.

But look at Sumners Farm, where an extra building would hardly be noticed. Phelps Road is a quiet, suburban road untroubled by excess traffic; one of its side roads leads to fields and a large peaceful residential home for the elderly. Parsloe Road, too - wider, leafier, leading to Parndon Wood Nature Reserve and the crematorium with its dignified pace of funeral traffic.

Then look forward a year or two: construction lorries and bulldozers and eventually an additional 2,000+ cars making daily journeys along these roads when Phelps Road becomes one of the main access points of the proposed West Sumners development. Nearly all of the building would be on Epping Forest land bordering Harlow, its fields and hedges destroyed for yet another private housing estate. But Harlow holds a trump card: vital strips of land in Sumners Hatch and Sumners needed for access.

The council will tell you they are so stretched financially they have to start selling off pockets of Harlow land. Yet what happens in the long term when medical facilities and schools are crushed by extra demand, when the water supply and sewage plant can't cope with thousands of extra toilets being flushed each day and when the residents of Broadley Road can't get home in the evening because of a gridlocked Water Lane and Southern Way?

What will the council sell off next to generate some cash? A bit of Staple Tye? A road or two in Bush Fair? Taken to its logical conclusion, Harlow could end up with more holes than a leaky sieve. Elected councillors do not own that land; they should be safeguarding Harlow for future generations and not selling it from under our feet. When it's gone it's gone. Nobody will remember the quick profit that disappeared into the black hole of council finances.

All they'll have is a noisier, dirtier, more congested town. Then the council's quick fix will look like what it is - flimsy Monopoly money or, even worse, 30 pieces of silver.

Don't burden us with the bill for clean-up

SIR, It is alleged the police, presumably with council agreement, gave the travellers access to Lattin Common with the proviso that they left within 48 hours. What fools! As if

Stop selling the land from under our feet

No excuse for police car parked on double yellow

SIR, I have no problem with the police or PCSOs stopping to buy their lunch; we all have to eat. However, I do object to police cars being parked on double yellow lines outside supermarkets whilst the occupants do their shopping. This photo was taken outside Tesco in Church Langley at noon on Saturday. I can confirm that the PCSOs involved did not appear to be attending a call; they were shopping in the vegetable aisle when I saw them. The photo clearly shows their car parked on a double yellow line. What sort of example does this show to the general population?

Mike Slater
Westbury Rise, Harlow

they could be trusted to keep that promise.

I hope that the people behind this ridiculous decision pay for clean up out of their own pockets and not make the town's taxpayers foot the bill.

For the people who say that the travellers have a right to their own way of life I say this - so do we and it does not include having to step over human faeces and toilet paper when we walk our dogs and children over the common.

They say they had work to do, landscape gardening. Well let me tell you they dumped all the rubbish from that over there as well. If we had done that we would have incurred a heavy fine, but off they go leaving us to pay to clean their mess.

It's no wonder people do not want them in their neighbourhood.

C. Lomas

Where are all these newly created jobs?

SIR, Of late Messrs. Cameron, Clegg, Osborne and Alexander have taken credit on behalf of the Government, stating that one million new jobs have been created in the private sector since the Coalition was formed.

Last week David Gauke on BBC's Newsnight and David Cameron, whilst visiting a tyre plant in Carlisle, claimed that the total new jobs created in the private sector is now 1.25m!

In my travels around the UK the feedback from locals is always the same - despair at the lack of jobs and the resultant high levels of unemployment.

Here in Harlow the jobs market is dire, with the closure of Comet, the impending closure of the Tesco distribution centre and at least one major drug company closing facilities with the resultant loss of hundreds of jobs. Driving along River Way these days reminds me of pictures of London after the blitz, with several warehouses having been reduced to piles of rubble.

I know of several well qualified members of the younger generation who have had no success in their job hunting in this area over the past two years despite having applied for any appropriate jobs advertised. The majority of job possibilities currently appear to be open only for those possessing an HGV licence!

Despite having made several attempts to confirm the detail of the Government statistics about new jobs created I can obtain no breakdown to support the claims made.

Alex White

Wasting thousands to save a few hundred

SIR, I feel must respond to the statement made by Harlow Council in the article about my garage (Star, April 25).

They say they are not responsible for the roof caving in on my car, even though I had reported rain pouring through the roof. Are they saying I imagined a man from Kier checking the roof and telling me I needed a new one but they could not do it until after Easter?

When I contacted Kier last May I was told I was on the list but there were so many leaks in flats and houses they were the priority... and rightly so. What did annoy me was that even though I was paying £41.38 a month in rent and £137.16 a month in council tax, I was expected to do the council's work for them by contacting Kier.

Is the council's management team that incompetent that they don't know what is going on in their departments, or is it that they don't care what sort of stress or inconvenience they cause to Harlow residents?

It seems the council would sooner pay thousands of pounds to barristers rather than the £700 repairs to my car.

Bus driver on phone put passengers at risk

SIR, I was sitting at traffic lights at the approach road to Kathrines last Wednesday morning when a bus pulled up behind me. I noticed the driver was on his phone.

As the lights turned green I could see he continued to use his phone all the way up the hill and through the roadworks.

In the past I have complained about drivers from this company driving too fast. On this occasion the driver had passengers on board and I consider this kind of behaviour a risk to them and other road users.

My parents use these buses. I am sure the safety of the passengers, at least in this case, was not the main concern of that driver.

New equipment boost for Princess Alexandra Hospital

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital has received a double boost this week after taking delivery of two new pieces of life-saving equipment.

The PAH NHS Trust has purchased two new echocardiogram machines for its cardiology units in Harlow and St Margaret's Hospital in Epping using cash generated through fundraising events and private donations.

One of the machines - which use ultrasound technology to assess patients' cardiovascular systems and cost up to £45,000 each - was paid for outright by local businessman Eddie Kirtland.

The High Beech resident said he wanted to thank PAH staff after they saved the life of his wife, Lorna.

"We decided to buy the machine for the hospital because my wife had such excellent care and we thought it would be great to help the local community," he told the Star.

"Dr Jeremy Sayer [consultant cardiologist] and his team saved my wife's life and I wanted to say thank you and give something to local people." Dr Sayer added: "This equipment is vital for the assessment of patients with breathlessness and possible heart failure, but up until now all patients have had to travel to PAH in Harlow for this test.

"Thanks to Mr & Mrs Kirtland, we will now be able to provide a more local service for those living further afield who struggle to make the journey."

Police probe arson attempt on home

POLICE in Harlow are investigating an attempted arson attack on a property in Long Banks.

The inquiry was launched after a young man was seen running away from the house at around 10.30pm last Wednesday.

A passer-by noticed tissue paper had been pushed into the letter box and set alight. Fortunately, it had caused minimal damage before burning out.

Police are treating the incident as "an act of anti social behaviour" and are appealing for anyone with information on the suspect to contact them at Harlow CID on 101.

DC Ryan Burgess said: "This appears to be a stupid prank but could, undoubtedly, have had serious consequences."

Necklace snatched in street mugging

A WOMAN in her 60s had her gold necklace snatched by two men as she walked along a Harlow street.

Police are now hunting her attackers and want to speak to anyone who may have witnessed the street robbery, which took place on Lane End in Church Langley at around 4pm last Wednesday.

The 65-year-old victim had been walking towards the roundabout near the junction with Elwood when she was mugged.

The suspects are described as white, in their late teens or early 20s and were both wearing blue hoodies.

Anyone who witnessed the robbery or with information in connection with the incident should contact detectives at Harlow police station on 101.

Labour pick up pieces as Tory vote crumbles

LABOUR were the big winners in a tightly-contested battle for Harlow's four seats on Essex County Council.

It was a night to remember for the party, with candidates Tony Durcan and Karen Clempner taking both seats in Harlow West despite strong competition from UKIP and Mike Danvers romping to victory in Harlow North with a sizeable majority of 490.

Speaking after his win in Harlow West, Tony Durcan told the Star: "I'm absolutely delighted with the results.

"The fact is, we ran a very successful campaign and we listen to the views of the people - now we will take those views to County Hall and fight for them.

"To gain three seats for Harlow for Labour in Essex is brilliant and though I'm disappointed we missed out on a fourth, this is a great result for us."

It could have been even better for Labour, with Daniella Pritchard narrowly missing out on taking Harlow South East off the Conservatives following a recount.

Ultimately, just 19 votes separated her from victorious Tory candidate Eddie Johnson, with the Conservative pipping his opponent to the post 1,346 votes to 1,325.

A relieved Mr Johnson told the Star: "I am very pleased that I have kept my seat, however with a reduced majority from four years ago, I understand that it's an indication of public feeling.

"Most people have suffered a reduced majority and that is the impact of UKIP, who took a lot of votes without being elected

and changed the balance of the election results.

"However, I am very happy to be serving the town again, I have already served the Harlow public and I am ready to do so once more."

Mr Johnson's victory was the one high point in an otherwise disappointing night for the Tories, who struggled to fend off a strong challenge from UKIP in three of the four Harlow divisions.

But if it was a bad night for the Tories, it was a dismal one for coalition partners the Liberal Democrats, whose four candidates failed to muster even 900 votes between them and found themselves relegated to fourth place behind UKIP.

UKIP candidate and Tory defector Mark Gough, who finished third in Harlow South East, said the results proved his party had superceded the Lib Dems as a member of the 'Big Three'.

"For the first time in the history of Harlow, a new political force was able to put out a full slate of candidates for a local election," he told the Star.

"We asked Harlow residents to put their trust in us and give us their vote and over 4,500 people did just that. For that, we are very thankful and hope that those voters and more like them will do again next year because we are here to stay."

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Is UKIP now a force to be reckoned with in British politics?

Mary's happy memories of trip to see the Queen

BIANCA CASTRObianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE first visit to Harlow by the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh in 1957 still lives on in the memories of Star readers who were among the thousands who turned out to welcome the Royal couple.

One of the those readers is Mary Ballisat - now 89 - who travelled from Sawbridgeworth to join the crowds lining the streets in the town centre, pictured above.

She got in touch after the visit was featured in Nostalgia last week, along with a photo, right, of some of those cheering on the Monarch.

"My granddaughter was the one who spotted me in the picture you featured last week," said Mary. "I didn't think she would have been able to - I'm only 37 in that photo and I'm 89 now, so it was a while ago!"

"I'm just under the 'H' in The High sign. It was lovely to see the photograph - it brought back memories of a wonderful day and a lovely afternoon.

"I remember it all very well. It was a lovely autumn day and everyone was so happy.

"I remember I got the bus to Harlow because I lived in Sawbridgeworth. I went on my own because my husband was at work and my sons were at school.

"I got the 396, which was a double decker, and joined the crowds in The High. I was quite lucky because I was very close and I had a wonderful view of the Queen and Prince Phillip as they went by.

"The Queen looked very elegant, I remember she was dressed in blue."

Mary, who still lives in Sawbridgeworth with husband Frank (90), added: "It was a lovely day, the crowds were great and there was quite a good turnout in The High.

"Everyone was just very happy to be seeing the Queen."

The Queen and Prince Phillip were taken on a whistlestop tour of schools, homes, a metal factory and Moot House during their visit.

Were you part of the arts festival fortnight?

FESTIVAL fever will soon be upon us with the world's best acts taking to stages across the country - but it wasn't too long ago when the town hosted its very own arts extravaganza.

Household names from the world of theatre, music, dance and poetry made an appearance at the 1969 festival during which events were held throughout the town.

Society, Harlow Youth Band and various school groups all had their time to shine.

The annual arts festival, which spanned 15 days, was first held in the town in 1965 and featured over 50 different acts, some of whom had travelled from across Europe to perform.

If you remember attending or performing in the Harlow Festival back in the 1960s, contact Nostalgia on (01279) 400 577 or email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Pervert jailed after cops find child porn pics

A PERVERT has been jailed for six months after police found photograph albums full of child porn at his Harlow home.

Officers had gone to interview Trevor Dixon (56) at his home in Ladyshot on an unrelated matter after he crashed his BMW into a parked vehicle.

But once inside his home they discovered photo albums packed full of pornographic images depicting child abuse and adults indulging in sex acts with animals.

He was arrested, and a subsequent trawl of the hard drives of two laptop computers seized from his home uncovered hundreds more images.

There were 659 rated at level one, 39 at level two, 79 at level three and four at level four, while seven portrayed images of sex with animals.

Last month unemployed Dixon pleaded guilty to making and possessing the indecent images. On Friday he was sentenced to six months behind bars.

Jailing him at Chelmsford Crown Court, district judge Paul Booty told the defendant: "If it wasn't for people like you there wouldn't be a pornographic industry and children wouldn't suffer as they do."

"By possessing these images you're feeding into the child pornography industry."

He ordered that in addition to the jail sentence Dixon should remain on the sex offenders register for seven years and comply with a sex offenders prevention order for a further seven years.

Andrew Clowser, representing Dixon, said in mitigation "He's had an interest for years in naturism and adult pornography and developed this interest in young people."

"He seeks treatment; he wants to rid himself of this disease."

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Is the law tough enough on those convicted of child porn charges?

ON YER BIKE: Harlow Council chair Maggie Hulcoop and ANSMANN UK managing director Paul Channell test out one of the firm's e-bikes

E-bike showroom opens to public

CYCLISTS looking to make light work of longer journeys can now test-ride a new range of power-assisted bikes following the opening of Harlow's first e-bike showroom.

ANSMANN UK's new trade counter in Harlow Business Park threw open its doors to the public last week - and the German engineering firm is now hoping its pioneering products will help it gain a foothold in the UK's emerging e-bike market.

Marketing manager Lenny Wood told the Star: "ANSMANN UK is targeting those riders who enjoy cycling, but due to advancing years or physical restraints find certain aspects of riding challenging.

"ANSMANN e-bikes are designed to assist the rider up to a maximum speed of 15mph, making light work of inclines and helping with longer journeys."

The retail unit was officially opened by Harlow Council chairwoman Maggie Hulcoop, who was joined by cycling enthusiasts keen to test out the company's comprehensive range of electronically assisted bikes.

Funding boost for River Stort hedge project

HEDGEROWS along the River Stort are to receive a boost thanks to a new project announced by the Canal and River Trust.

The wildlife-rich habitats are to be reinvigorated to provide better shelter and food for many threatened species, including farmland birds such as blackbirds, thrushes and tree sparrows.

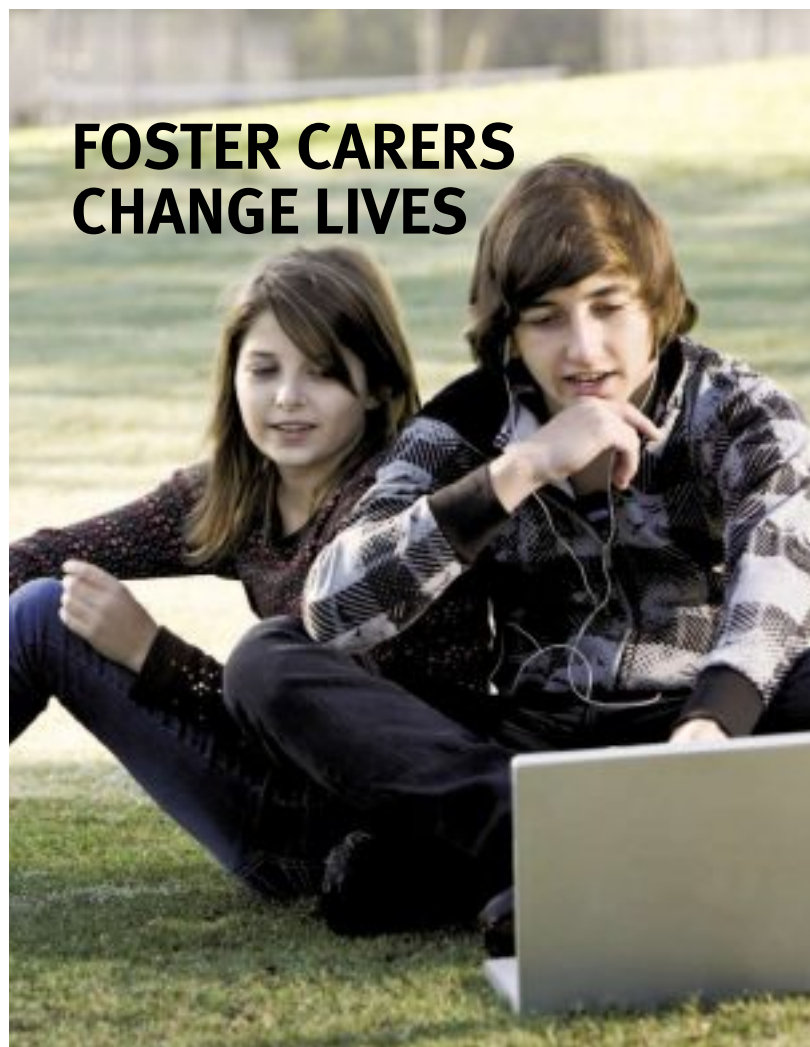

Small mammals, such as hedgehogs and dormice, will also benefit from the work, as well as increasingly rare butterflies, including gate keepers, orange tips and brimstones.

Work will begin this summer, with the trust surveying all 600 miles of its waterside hedgerows to establish where gaps can be filled, invasive species removed and where hedgerows can be extended to connect with nearby woodland and other important habitat.

As part of the project, the trust is now recruiting a network of volunteers to survey its hedges between June and September. They will be trained to identify the existing condition of hedges and to pick and map appropriate improvement measures.

Those interested should visit www.canalrivertrust.org.uk/volunteer.

'Hero' John wins grant for his garden

A KIND-hearted volunteer has won a restaurant's nationwide search for Britain's Local Hero for his gardening work.

John Thatcher (77) has been awarded a £500 bursary by Potters Arms Brewers Fayre in Church Langley to support his voluntary gardening work at Halyday House.

The retired electrician, who is also a resident at Halyday House, launched an association to build a quadrangle garden which he continues to maintain.

John said: "I am so honoured to have received this and it will help maintain the garden for a couple of years."

"The garden is a wonderful addition to our lives and it was a tip when I first arrived here. I'm not a gardener by trade but I've had a lot of help.

"Kier Harlow helped get it off the ground by clearing the land and Matthew of Matthew Plants was a great help by giving me advice and answering questions."

"The garden looks beautiful now and I'm very proud and very grateful for the grant."

Steph's balloon reaches Suffolk

A BALLOON which reached the Suffolk countryside after it was released at Harlow Fields school to celebrate Accuro's launch of Share the Care week has won the charity's race.

More than 250 balloons were released in March by pupils at Harlow Fields School.

The winning balloon, which was 'bought' by Stephanie Moore, was found in the village of Great Saxham near Bury St Edmunds by Janice Hunt. Both have received shopping vouchers.

Accuro's events co-ordinator Ruth Davies said: "The balloon release was a great way to launch Share the Care week, which was a big success."

"We were delighted to hear one of the balloons had reached Suffolk."

Fundraising for health workers

ST Mary Magdalene Church's Sunday School children have spent six weeks raising money in the hope of buying two bicycles through Christian Aid for health workers in Africa.

The small group of children, who spent every week during Lent raising money and collecting donations from the congregation with buckets on Sunday mornings, were able to raise £630.

The money will now be able to pay for 10 bicycles which will be used by health workers in Kenya to allow them easier access to remote rural villages.

Couple's charity big band dance

A COUPLE who held their 13th big band dance party for St Clare Hospice raised £4,000.

The event, which is organised by Jean and Dave Roberts, has raised £39,000 since its launch. This year 200 people enjoyed music from Todd Miller and the Joe Loss Orchestra at the Broxbourne Civic Hall.

Jean said: "People phone me and send me cards and say what a wonderful event it was and it just snowballs with people telling their friends."

"We all had another fantastic evening and thanks needs to go to everyone that supported us."

Elizabeth Palfreman, director of fundraising at St Clare, said: "It's supporters like the Roberts who are the backbone of St Clare and we are indebted to them for the effort they put into this event."

Lottery winner

THE winner of the £1,000 first prize in the St Clare Hospice lottery drawn on Friday, May 3 is ticketholder 661606, who lives in Harlow.

Cyclists urged to pound the pedals in PAH fundraiser

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsexnews.co.uk

CYCLISTS are being urged to saddle up for a 15-mile bike ride around Harlow to raise money for the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit and Cancer Services at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Now in its third year, the event has raised £18,000 for PAH's Neonatal Charity Appeal in previous years, and co-organiser Lisa Wilson said she hoped this year's ride would be "bigger and better" than ever before.

"The previous appeal was a real success and over £100,000 was raised by some amazing fundraisers in the town," she told the Star.

"As a result, a brand new state-of-the-art building for the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit was opened - events like this really make a difference."

Local cycling community group Hub and Spoke are sponsoring this summer's event in a bid to help boost the number of riders taking part.

"We're really glad that Hub and Spoke have decided to come on board this year," Lisa added.

"We're hoping to raise even

IN THE SADDLE: Cyclists in last year's Charity Bike Ride raised over £18,000 for the Neonatal Charity Appeal and organisers are hoping to beat that total more money for great causes with their help.

"I work at the hospital and I see the staff and services at PAH first-hand so I know what events like this mean to staff and patients."

The PAH bike ride - which will be held on Sunday, June 23 - will finish with a BBQ and raffle, where prizes will include vineyard wine tasting for two, a tour of the football stadium of the winner's choice and London Comedy Club tickets.

Registration costs £17.50 per person and includes a fundraising rider's pack and five raffle tickets.

For more information, or to register for the event, log on to www.justgiving.com/PAHcharitybikeride2013/ or send an email to contact@hubandspokeharlow.co.uk.

ADRENALIN junkies and plucky fundraisers headed to the Church Langley water tower at the weekend to take part in the Rotary Club of Harlow Tye's annual abseil.

More than 200 daredevils plucked up the courage to climb to the top of the 160ft-high landmark before lowering themselves to the ground to raise money for various local, regional, national and international charities.

By the end of the two-day event, which is now in its 16th year, more than £48,978 had been raised for worthy causes.

Don Cramphorn, chairman of the club's abseil committee, said: "We're very, very pleased with the fundraising efforts this year and with the amount of people that came to support."

"Over two days we had 216 abseilers who have pledged a fantastic amount of money and there were lots more supporters cheering the abseilers on."

"Having raised so much money in the current climate is no mean feat. We're very happy."

The club's lady members raised more than £1,000 by selling refreshments and cakes over the course of the weekend. The money will go to Princess Alexandra Hospital.

The overall amount of money raised by the abseil since its launch back in 1998 is now almost £700,000.

THREE Harlow majorettes have helped their troupe clean up at the UK Federation of Majorettes National Championship 2013 after bringing home 83 trophies... including a few of their own!

Capricorn Majorette sisters Ashley (22) and Megan Trigg (17), of Waterhouse Moor, both wowed the judges, with Ashley winning the Supreme Twirler title for the third time and the Champion Mace Twirler for the second year. She was also presented with the UKFM ambassador award.

Megan was named Two Baton Champion for the second year running and also claimed the title of Overall Adult Twirler. Esme Cochrane (5) - the youngest member of the troupe - was named UKM mascot for the 2013/14.

Capricorn leader Karen Trigg said: "I am so very proud of them and their huge success - they have all done so well."

County police tsar seeking a £55k deputy

ESSEX police commissioner Nick Alston is set to appoint a deputy on a salary of £55,000 a year.

Mr Alston announced on Friday he had chosen Lindsay Whitehouse as his preferred candidate for the role of deputy police and crime commissioner.

Mr Whitehouse must appear before the Police and Crime Panel, which is due to hold a confirmation hearing today (May 9).

Mr Alston said "Over the past few months I have become increasingly sure that I need a deputy to help me carry out effective scrutiny of Essex Police and to drive community crime reduction work across Essex.

"Since December my office has been carrying out a review to scope the role requirement and the work that the deputy will do.

Mr Whitehouse is currently deputy governor of Chelmsford Prison and is chair of the Essex Criminal Justice Board Public Confidence Action Team.

"The Police and Crime Plan for Essex is built upon a determination to tackle the cycle of re-offending, to steer young offenders away from criminality, to reduce drug and alcohol abuse and to address the horrors of domestic abuse," said Mr Alston.

"Lindsay Whitehouse brings a wealth of experience to support the Police and Crime Commissioner, Essex Police, the Community Safety Partnerships and the voluntary sector in these challenging but crucial efforts to help keep Essex safe."

Mr Whitehouse said "I am encouraged by the potential that this new role has in bringing real scrutiny to the performance and finances of our police service and crime prevention schemes. My experience in public and private service has given me wide experience of dealing with new and difficult challenges.

"I approach the role with an aspiration to make Essex safer for us all and uphold the highest levels of integrity that the Commissioner has set.

Mr Alston added: "I am committed to running the office of the PCC as efficiently and effectively as possible at a cost around 20 per cent below that of the old police authority just three years ago. This includes the salary of the deputy police and crime commissioner."

Moot House installs chairlift to help disabled

MOOT House has had an upgrade to "bring it into the 21st century" by installing a new chairlift for disabled and older visitors.

The Grade II listed building, which was originally built in the 1800s, received a part-grant from Harlow Health Trust to help with the costs of the chairlift installation.

Centre manager Val Cullen said: "We're very glad to have finally moved into the 21st century and this chairlift should ease movement for any visitors."

Struggling to pay off your water arrears?

You may be able to receive an award to pay off your arrears if you are a Veolia Water account holder!

Your local Citizens Advice Bureau can help you!

In addition, some customers have been helped to gain payments for gas and electricity debts, rent and Council Tax debts, household items, funeral debts, telephone debts, Debt Relief Order fees and Bankruptcy fees.

If you are a domestic customer of Veolia Water struggling to pay off your current water arrears, let alone the new bill that will be arriving, help is at hand to assist you in negotiating affordable repayments to your creditors and possibly receiving an award to pay off your arrears.

Our advisers have helped Veolia Water customers in Harlow to balance their family budgets, negotiate affordable repayments to their creditors and gain assistance.

Examples include:

- A young mother from Harlow in her twenties with two children on benefits had water arrears of £456. After assistance from our adviser in drawing up a family budget Veolia Water Trust agreed to make her an award to pay off the arrears provided she kept to an affordable payment plan for her current water bill for the next six months.
- A 31 year old single man on Incapacity Benefit due to mental health problems, who had been living in his one bedroom rented property without a cooker for over twelve months because he did not want the worry of getting into debt, was awarded an electric cooker by Veolia Water Trust with our adviser's assistance.
- A divorced man in his forties with three dependant children who regularly stay with him and gas and water arrears of £755 was made a conditional award of £486 from Veolia Water Trust to pay off his Veolia Water arrears in full. Our adviser also successfully negotiated with his gas supplier to accept a £5 per week offer of repayment towards his gas arrears.

Our money advisor states: "We are expecting more demand than ever this year due to the hard winter pushing up people's utility bills and loss of income through reduced working hours and unemployment. People shouldn't be embarrassed to ask for the help that's available for them. This service is funded by the Veolia Water Trust and like all CAB services it is free and confidential".

The advice provided by the Citizens Advice service is free, independent, confidential, and impartial, and available to everyone regardless of race, gender, disability, sexual orientation, religion, age or nationality. For online advice and information see www.adviceguide.org.uk

We are open 5 days a week 10am - 4pm with 3 morning drop in sessions on Monday, Wednesday, Friday 10am - 1pm where volunteer advisors can help. All other times we are open to provide leaflet information or alternative assistance. For more information visit www.harlowcitizensadvice.org.uk.

Our service relies on the dedication, commitment and compassion of our volunteers.

Atoms are stars of world's smallest film

A TEAM of scientists have created the world's smallest film using carbon atoms. Researchers from computer firm IBM moved the tiny particles around on a copper plate using a special kind of microscope (pictured right).

They then took photographs of them arranged in different patterns, which were then spliced together to create the short film.

It is so tiny it would take almost 1,000 of the film's frames laid side by side to match the width of a single human hair.

It took the team of four scientists two weeks of working 18-hour days to make the film, which showcases the technology used in the firm's next generation of computers.

It also shows how scientists are now able to control even the smallest building blocks of life. Andreas Heinrich from IBM Research told reporters:

"The movie is really a conversation starter to get people talking about - and excited about - maths, science and technology."

Take That! Win tickets to see UK's top tribute act

RULE The World has been recognised as the number one Take That tribute act, featuring on ITV1's Daybreak show and gaining praise from none other than the group's lead singer Gary Barlow, who described their act as "brilliant".

Now in their sixth year of touring, they are currently appearing in theatres and at events up and down the country, arriving in Harlow next month to perform at The Playhouse on Saturday, June 8. And this week we are giving you the chance to win show tickets for you and five friends. Two runners-up will each receive a pair of tickets.

All four performers - Daniel Mayes (Gary Barlow), Matt Hall (Mark Owen), Dom Moccia (Howard Donald) and Joe Currey (Jason Orange) - are professionally trained and their show ensures an accurate portrayal and true impersonation of the sounds, look and feel of the real Take That live in concert.

It features all the band's favourite's including Greatest Day, Back For Good, Million Love Songs, Patience, Relight My Fire, Never Forget, Shine, Pray . . . and many more.

For a chance to win tickets to the show, all you have to do is answer this simple question:

Which original member of Take That had a solo hit with the song Angels?

There are three ways you can enter this competition:

- complete the coupon and send it to Rule The World Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF.

- enter by email, sending your entry to competitions@hertsessexnews.co.uk and making sure you put 'Star Rule The World' in the subject line.

- log on to our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk, click on the 'Competitions' link under the Newspaper tab at the top of the home page and be sure to enter 'Star Rule The World' in the competition line or your entry will be discounted.

The closing date for entries is Wednesday, May 15.

If you are not one of our lucky winners, there are still a few tickets left for the show. For details and prices, call the Playhouse box office on 01279 431945 or visit www.playhouseharlow.com.

Introducing the band . . .

Daniel Mayes (Gary Barlow)

Daniel first began his musical career at the age of seven when his father taught him the basics of music and how to play the trombone.

In 2007 he saw an advert looking for singers for a Take That tribute band. He applied for an audition and was offered the position of Gary Barlow. "Being a Take That fan and a huge Gary Barlow fan I was absolutely ecstatic about getting the job and couldn't wait to get started," he said. "After I met the other three lads I was even happier to get the chance to work with such highly talented guys".

Matt Hall (Mark Owen)

Matthew has been studying singing, dance and drama since the age of eight. He trained at the Yorkshire

School of Performing Arts Stage 84, Leeds College of Music and the National Youth Theatre.

He has appeared in leading roles in musical theatre including Little Shop Of Horrors, Grease, The Wizard Of Oz, We Will Rock You and West Side Story. His television credits include Emmerdale, A Touch Of Frost and My Parents Are Aliens and Heartbeat.

Dom Moccia (Howard Donald)

Dom began singing at the age of nine when he entered a karaoke competition and came second. He also took dance lessons, which included tap, jazz and modern and went on to study performing arts and musical theatre at Huddersfield New College and Leeds College of Music. He has appeared on stage numerous times in musical theatre shows, playing many lead roles in productions of Oklahoma and Beauty and the Beast.

Joe Currey (Jason Orange)

Joe was a member of the Spotlight Theatre Company for two years which enabled him to perform in some of the UK's most renowned theatres The Palladium and Shaftesbury Avenue Theatre in London's West End. In the summer of 2009 he ventured to the seas to dance on the MSC ARMONIA cruise ship.

HEALTHCHECK in partnership with Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust

Patients' chance to have a say on improving hospital services

KARL HEIDEL

Head of Communications, PAH NHS Trust

WHEN you visit Princess Alexandra Hospital we want you to have the best care and the best experience possible.

We all know that coming to hospital can be a worrying time, so our aim is to try and make your stay as pleasant as we can.

To help us get things right we invited more than 30 patients and members of the public to come back and tell us what we do well and what we could do better.

We called these meetings 'In Your Shoes' and they were a great way for us to hear about our services and our care from the patients' point of view.

Recently appointed director of nursing Dr Nancy Fontaine is passionate about making our services even more patient friendly. "I am very clear with staff that the most important person in our hospital is the patient," she said. "That is why we are investing time and energy - from doctors, nurses and consultants - in really listening to how patients and their loved ones feel about their experiences at Princess Alexandra Hospital."

Making change

Patients have already suggested some improvements and two of them are featured in the blue box on the right. Others are to follow in the coming months as we are committed to making things better at PAH.

The hospital trust is already beginning to see the benefits from this programme because Princess Alexandra has just been rated as one of the best in the region for patient experience according to the NHS Friends and Family Test, which asks patients whether they would recommend the care they received at our hospital to their friends and family.

Get involved

This year hundreds of patients and members of the public will be invited to take part in challenging the organisation to get better.

YOU SAID: "Improve information about potential discounts on the cost of long-term car parking for patients and family who need to visit regularly."

WE DID: "Made our information easier to understand and will make it more visible across the Trust."

YOU SAID: "Our friends and relatives should be given a drink or even something to eat when they accompany us for long periods in hospital."

WE DID: "We are looking to provide teas and coffees for the relatives/carers who accompany you to hospital and we are considering whether we can offer a meal or sandwich to relatives or carers who stay for long periods of time with you."

You can participate in an 'In Your Shoes' workshop or become part of our Patient Panel. And if you really want to make your mark why not nominate someone to become chair of the Patient Panel - a powerful new patient body at the heart of decision-making at The Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust. If you want to take part then please get in touch by emailing Kerry.riches@pah.nhs.uk.

We are proud of what we are achieving and of the rapidly growing number of compliments we receive from local people.

We are proud to serve the community and we want the community to be proud of us, too. If you are interested in getting more involved with your local hospital contact Kerry.riches@pah.nhs.uk or Karl.Heidel@pah.nhs.uk.

Airfield tyre blaze wrecks buildings

AN investigation is now under way to establish the cause of a massive tyre fire which gutted buildings and destroyed coaches, buses and cars at Matching Green airfield.

At the height of the inferno 12 fire crews were battling the flames and billowing black smoke could be seen eight miles away in Harlow.

Essex County Fire and Rescue Service was called to the wartime airfield shortly after noon on Thursday.

Crews from Harlow, Old Harlow, Leaden Roding, Epping and Loughton were sent to the scene and were later joined by colleagues from Stansted, Dunmow and Waltham Abbey as well as Herts Fire and Rescue Service crews from Bishop's Stortford and Cheshunt and the Essex urban search and rescue team.

More than 60 firefighters tackled the blaze which is believed to have started at a tyre remoulding firm.

A 200-metre hazard zone was established after it was confirmed that acetylene cylinders were involved. All members of the public and workers on the airfield site were evacuated as crews worked in two sectors to bring the fire under control.

The flames fanned by the wind quickly spread to nearby premises, including two carpentry businesses, a coach restorers, a powder coating firm and a car repair workshop where a Brabham Formula 2 race car and a Triumph TR6 and a MGA - both classic sports cars - were destroyed.

Two other vehicles were driven away from the flames.

Incident commander Mark Wilson said: "Firefighters arrived at the scene to a well-developed fire involving a range of businesses including a workshop and a coachyard."

"A number of cylinders were involved in the fire and crews immediately recognised the risks and called in further fire crews and appliances."

"Crews moved some of the cylinders clear of the fire and did an excellent job tackling the blaze."

There were no reported casualties.

New top cop goes back on the beat in Harlow

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE county's new top cop went back on the beat in Harlow on his first day in the job.

Chief Constable Stephen Kavanagh, who has replaced Jim Barker-McArdle as the county's top cop, joined PCSO Dave Brown on patrol in the town during a whistle-stop tour of the county.

While in Harlow he also met Essex Police and Crime Commissioner Nick Alston.

Afterwards Mr Kavanagh said: "There is no substitute for meeting and talking to the officers and staff who work in the county to find out what is happening on the front-line of policing."

"I have been very impressed with the levels of professional commitment shown from the police staff and officers that I have seen today."

Mr Kavanagh started his career as a constable patrolling Leyton in 1985. He subsequently served in a number of roles in the Metropolitan Police, rising through the ranks to become Deputy Assistant Commissioner.

He said: "It is great to be here and I'm really looking forward to getting to grips with the way policing is carried out in Essex."

ON PATROL: Chief Constable Stephen Kavanagh joins PCSO Dave Brown on the beat in Harlow

"I'm here because I believe in Essex. This job is the greatest privilege I have ever had in policing. I want to help Essex to be the best force it can be. I want people to work with enthusiasm and integrity; to have a warrant card is a privilege and not a right and we have to do the best we can do."

Mr Alston said: "Stephen brings a detailed understanding of neighbourhood policing and of complex investigations. He has also been entrusted with leading some of the most demanding and important policing commands in the country."

"His police service has been in London but he is Essex through and through. He grew up and went to school in our county, his father was an officer in Essex Police, and he lives in Essex.

"He is hugely enthusiastic about taking on the leadership of the force. He is also committed to working in partnership with everyone in the community to continue to keep Essex safe."

He added: "I have absolutely no doubt that Stephen is the right person to lead the highly professional officers and staff of Essex Police through the challenges of the next few years, to drive crime down and to ensure there are fewer victims of crime in our county."

Mr Kavanagh's predecessor, Mr Barker-McArdle, is retiring from policing after 32 years service, the last four as Chief Constable of Essex.

"It has been a genuine privilege to work with the officers, staff and people of this county," he said. "I must also highlight the outstanding work of our councils, criminal justice agencies and the vast number of superb volunteers across Essex who work together to make Essex ever safer."

"Policing is a unique profession, placing extraordinary demands on extraordinary people, including restrictions on their private lives. It is a career which involves self-sacrifice, courage and public service."

times of your life . . . so try and make sure you enjoy it!

Breaking your wedding planning down into sections should help when it comes to creating your perfect day.

First you will need to choose the kind of reception you would like to have. Are you planning a large wedding, or a more intimate gathering of friends and family? Talk with your relatives and your future in-laws to get their ideas, too.

Once you have a general idea of how many guests you will have, you can then visit reception possibilities and see what is available. Remember that the places you choose to visit have most likely hosted many weddings before yours and can present suggestions that perhaps you hadn't considered.

Many reception sites will gladly let you take their information so you can spend time considering what they have to offer. If you have questions, be sure to ask them as this is a great way to see how flexible the site and staff will be to meet your individual needs.

Keeping within budget is key as spending money you can't afford will only lead to problems. The perfect wedding does not necessarily need to be the most expensive one. Use your creativity and make sure your big day has personal touches that will be special to you and your guests.

The time of day that you choose to get married will impact on your food choice. If you choose a mid-morning wedding you might prefer to have a brunch buffet, while an evening wedding calls for a more formal presentation. Chat to the caterers and make sure they know exactly what you have in mind for both menus and budget.

Flowers, invitations, music and photography are all personal choices you will make based on the style you desire for your wedding. These are also areas where you can trim your budget if you need to. Considering a simplified invitation and less formally arranged flowers can save you hundreds of pounds.

Above all enjoy it. This will be a day you will remember forever.

Laurel & Hardy live on in new show at Rhodes

THE glittering legacy of comedy heavyweights Laurel & Hardy takes centre stage in a hilarious new show at Rhodes in Bishop's Stortford tonight (Thursday).

Directed by Jeanne Stacey - tutor at Harlow-based Phoenix Theatre School - and produced by former Harlow Playhouse manager Phil Dale, the tribute features ex-Harlow pantomime favourites Dan James and Lee Pace in the title roles and imagines the pair in the afterlife as they review the ups and downs of an extraordinary career.

Blending live action with video footage, the play penned by Tom McGrath tells the extraordinary story of how two relatively unknown performers were thrust together to create the most famous comic partnership in history.

Producer Phil told the Star: "Not only do Dan and Lee bear an uncanny resemblance to the famous pair, but they have the chemistry to pull off what is undoubtedly a very big ask."

"Whether it's Morecombe and Wise, Reeves and Mortimer or Ant and Dec, whatever they do, you can pretty much guarantee that Laurel and Hardy did it first."

● Laurel & Hardy begins a two-night run at Rhodes Arts Centre in Bishop's Stortford tonight (Thursday) at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £12 (£10 concessions) from (01279) 651746 or online at www.rhodesbishopsstortford.org.uk.

DIAGNOSIS LAUGHTER: Crotchety invalid Frank Cook (Geoff Leeds) protests as well-meaning wife June (Jennifer Southwell) wheels him out for some fresh air in MHP's production of Side Effects

Side Effects include laughter and hilarity

CHRIS MOSS

MOVING from the stage to the director's chair can be a daunting step up for some - but not Moot House Players regular Kerry Rowland.

Taking the helm for the am-dram group's new adaptation of Eric Chappel's hilarious Side Effects tonight (Thursday), she told the Star she was relishing the chance to direct for the first time.

Kerry, who at 25 is one of the Players' youngest members, said: "I do tend to get cast in youthful parts but it's nice to be offered a role for something other than your youth!"

"It's a great play and I've got a great cast so I'm really looking forward to directing for the first time."

"I like to think that I can now start to play characters of a more indeterminate age."

The former Harlow College student - who also stars in a key role - said she hoped the move would add a new maturity to her drama CV.

"I like to think that I can now start to play characters of a more indeterminate age," she added.

She will be cutting her teeth on Side Effects, a hilarious comedy set in the visitors' room of a convalescent home.

Having been taken ill with an inexplicable complaint, cantankerous

Frank Cook (MHP secretary Geoff Leeds) has been booked into the private home by his wife June (Jennifer Southwell) for a week's respite. While there, he encounters the Rev Paul Latimer (Michael Rees), who is recovering from a heart transplant and whose odd behaviour is beginning to alarm his wife, Sarah (Catriona Macleay).

Could the young, attractive Tracey (Kerry Rowland) provide the answer?

● Side Effects* opens a three-night run at Moot Hall in The Stow tonight (Thursday) at 8pm. Tickets cost £8 (concessions £6) and are available from the box office on (01279) 631970.

Billy brings the sunshine to Harlow Playhouse

BLOW away the cobwebs with a blast of pure summer on Wednesday as R&B megastar Billy Ocean brings his shimmering sunshine pop to Harlow Playhouse.

Britain's biggest-selling black recording artist, Billy (pictured) has sold more than 30 million records in a career spanning more than 40 years.

From 1970s classics Love Really Hurts and Red Light to '80s mega-hits Caribbean Queen and When The Going Gets Tough, the Trinidad and Tobago-born superstar has recorded some of the best-loved R&B tracks of all-time, replicating his UK chart success across the Atlantic after notching up three US number ones.

A prolific songwriter, Billy continued to record until the early noughties when he decided to take a break from his busy schedule to spend more time with his family.

But he couldn't resist the lure of the road for long, embarking on a nationwide tour in 2007 which saw him perform a memorable sold-out show at Harlow Playhouse.

The following year he released acclaimed album Because I Love You and recently went back into the studio with old collaborator Barry Eastmond.

The resulting album - Here You Are - was released online last month and features his own versions of the songs that have inspired him throughout his career, charting Billy's musical journey from boy to man.

Playhouse audiences can expect to hear tracks from the new release alongside a selection of his greatest hits.

● Billy Ocean performs live at Harlow Playhouse on Wednesday (May 15). The concert starts at 7.30pm, and tickets cost £32 from (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Phasers set to stunning for this SFX

STAR TREK INTO DARKNESS (3D & 2D) certificate 12A, 2h2m

IN the captain's log from the original 1960s TV series, James Tiberius Kirk brazenly split an infinitive as the crew of the Enterprise embarked on a five-year mission "to boldly go where no man has gone before".

The three screenwriters of Star Trek Into Darkness abandon that crusading spirit, harking back to bygone Starfleet missions for this action-packed sequel to JJ Abrams's 2009 revamp of the franchise.

Phasers are set to stunningly nostalgic as the bonds of trust between gung-ho James T Kirk (Chris Pine) and science officer Spock (Zachary Quinto) are tested to the limit.

Characters and scenarios from old Star Trek data logs are woven into a simple storyline that unfolds in fits and starts between overblown set pieces including a spectacular descent into an erupting volcano and a high-speed jetpack ride through a field of lethal debris.

Starfleet is rocked by a terrorist attack in London, masterminded by the mysterious John Harrison (Benedict Cumberbatch).

Kirk, who has been stripped of his captaincy and now serves under his mentor, Rear Admiral Christopher Pike (Bruce Greenwood), becomes embroiled in the hunt for Harrison which is led by Admiral Marcus (Peter Weller).

Predictably, Harrison doesn't intend to surrender so Kirk gives chase flanked by Spock, communications officer Uhura (Zoe Saldana), navigator Pavel Chekov (Anton Yelchin), chief medical officer Dr Leonard McCoy (Karl Urban), chief engineer Montgomery Scott (Simon Pegg) and helmsman Sulu (John Cho).

The crew is faced with a race against time to stop Harrison from obliterating everyone they hold dear, but success hinges on the ultimate sacrifice.

Like its predecessor, the second film is digitally polished to within a light year of its life including ridiculous amounts of lens flare from gleaming starship consoles. Sunglasses ought to be standard issue for the crew because we're frequently dazzled by reflected light as Abrams's camera whirls around the bridge.

Between the pyrotechnic-laden heroics, which are evenly distributed between Pine, Quinto and their co-stars, there is a semblance of plot. Star Trek Into Darkness is bolted together with clinical precision by Abrams, who orchestrates each daredevil chase and skirmish with breathless abandon.

As a visual spectacle the sequel rocks. But on a deeper level the warp core of the script fails to hit factor 5, let alone 10, as the characters' inner turmoil is hidden behind copious special effects.

There are some delightfully terse verbal exchanges between Pine and Quinto and a half-hearted attempt to dissect Spock's decision to chart a coolly logical course through life.

STARMAN: Benedict Cumberbatch in STAR TREK INTO DARKNESS

Yet every time we are poised to delve into messy raw emotion - the really good stuff - the sequel slingshots instead into adrenaline-pumping action, leaving us as the title promised, in the dark.

Sparks of mutual attraction are doused, temporarily at least, so that Casey and Miller can carry their buddy home to his bed. Get buzzing and help bees

REPORTS that our bee population is at crisis point as numbers have been hit by bad weather and particularly long winters should prompt responsible gardeners to protect our bees by creating a prosperous environment for them.

Last year's annual survey by the British Beekeepers Association (BBKA) indicated an increase in losses of honey bees and the organisation is concerned that losses may be even greater this year if the long winter is anything to go by.

"Much longer winters mean that bees are potentially running out of stores," says Gill Maclean, BBKA spokeswoman.

Weather-related impacts such as cold spells affect colony development and queen-mating. Honey bees don't forage in very cold or wet weather, so their winter stores were depleted last year.

The honey bee is the only bee to maintain a colony throughout the winter, reducing its colony size in autumn and relying on its stores of honey to last it through the winter months when it is too cold for foraging or there is no forage available. Some colonies may have since been lost simply by running out of stores. However, gardeners can do their bit to help bees, says Maclean.

"Planting the right sort of plant is important and try to plant in drifts. There are so many bee-friendly plants including thyme, oregano, mint and viburnum. Plant some trees for bees as well, including spring-flowering cherries, apples, plums and pears."

All blossoms are widely visited by bees including blackthorn, cherry, plum, damson and crab apple. Other trees that are widely visited are the horse chestnut for its nectar and sycamore for its pollen.

She also advises gardeners to set aside part of the garden as a decorative wildflower area which will be a magnet for bees, planting white and red clover, borage, thyme, bugle and other bee-friendly plants.

"Bees also need water, so you can do something like fill a pot lid with water and put stones in it and netting over it so that they can drink without falling in."

Gardeners should make sure they provide a succession of bee-friendly plants which will flower between February and November, to give bees the best chance of building up their stores.

Last year, the Royal Horticultural Society (RHS) launched a guide as part of its Perfect for Pollinators initiative, listing more than 200 wildflowers, such as corncockle, teasel and wild pansy, that provide plentiful pollen and nectar for pollinating insects. It advises gardeners to:

■ Avoid plants with double or multi-petalled flowers, which may lack nectar and pollen, or insects may have

by Hannah Stephenson

- difficulty in gaining access.
- Never use pesticides on plants when they are in flower.
 - Where appropriate, British wild flowers can be an attractive addition to planting schemes and may help support a wider range of pollinating insects.
 - Observe the plants in your garden. If you know of plants with blooms that regularly attract insects, let the RHS know.
 - Choose flowers that bloom successively over the spring, summer and autumn, such as coreopsis, Russian sage or germander, in order to provide pollen and nectar resources to the native bees of all seasons.
 - Encourage bees by keeping honey bees yourself or allowing a beekeeper to place hives in your garden.
 - Provide nest sites for bumblebees: Bumblebee nest boxes can be purchased but they are often ignored by queen bumblebees.

Extended four-bedroom detached family house

THIS extended and detached four-bedroom property in Sawbridgeworth has plenty of generous accommodation for a family.

The front door opens into an entrance hall where there is a cloakroom and doors leading to the utility room and a storage room.

The utility room was formerly the rear end of the garage while the store room was the front area with a range of fitted wall and base units along one wall and the up-and-over garage door. These two rooms could easily be converted back into garage space if required.

The lounge is a good size and has a double glazed picture window to the front. The kitchen features an extensive range of white wall and base units, a built-in gas hob and electric oven, fridge recess, plumbing for a dishwasher and double glazed patio doors to the rear garden.

There is a door leading off to the study/dining room which has a range of cupboards along one wall and double glazed patio doors to the garden.

Upstairs on the landing there is an airing cupboard and a hatch giving access to the boarded loft space.

Bedroom one overlooks the front of the house and has an en-suite shower room. Of the remaining three bedrooms, two overlook the front and one has a window to the rear. The family bathroom has a full white suite.

The rear garden has access down both sides leading to the front and a raised lawn area with a supporting wall. There is also a patio area and it is enclosed by fencing on all sides.

To the front of the property there is a lawn and parking space for two cars. Centurion Property Services can provide full details on (01279) 417234.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

A FEW years ago when we were house hunting we walked into a property a few miles outside of Bishop's Stortford where the seller had obviously read the 'how to sell your home' manual from cover to cover.

As we walked through the door we were greeted by the aroma of freshly baked bread and percolating coffee. As we moved from room to room, every lamp was burning brightly - even though it was the middle of a sunny June day.

The place was immaculate; there were fresh flowers and gleaming windows. These sellers really had ticked all the boxes on the 'how to sell' checklist, but rather than this making us rush to put in an offer it had the opposite effect and we were just going through the motions of looking enthusiastic about the place before we'd even got upstairs.

When we first heard about the property I had thought it would be perfect for us. It had everything we were looking for and more - it was in the right location and price range but the house itself just didn't work. Never mind 'wow' factor, there wasn't even a 'maybe' factor. The sellers were just trying too hard and it was so obvious. There was no way we could see ourselves living there and, interestingly, the house stayed on the market for quite a while so we probably weren't the only ones to feel like that.

I subsequently discovered the property sold for a great deal less than the asking price and presume that, for whatever reason, they just wanted rid of it which was all too obvious.

Sometimes it's a good idea to ask your agent to handle your viewings. They know their job and you'll be paying them to sell your home, so why not leave it to them to show it to buyers?

Great buy for £176,000

LOCATED at Hollyfield in Harlow, this delightfully presented home has recently had solar panels fitted to take full advantage of its sunny aspect.

There are three double bedrooms, a dual aspect living room and a galleried-style fitted kitchen/dining room.

Financial Clout

One of the greatest frustrations in selling a property is delay. Delay not only causes anxiety, but also provides more time in which the buyer or seller can reconsider their position and withdraw from a purchase or sale.

As our objective is to help you move with minimal stress, it is essential that we are able to do everything in our power to speed up your sale.

Apart from keeping a keen eye on the progress of any related transactions, one of the most effective ways of speeding up a sale is for your estate agent to be involved in the financial arrangements, particularly with regard to your buyer's mortgage. This is especially important now that mortgage finance has become more difficult to source.

We therefore use experienced, qualified and competent independent financial advisers (IFAs) who can help pre-qualified buyers. When a pre-qualified buyer makes an offer on one of our clients properties, it is reassuring to know that they should be able to proceed without hindrance. References, credit history and anything else needed to qualify that buyer's mortgage will already have been approved in advance, subject only to mortgage valuation of the property. (This is also useful if you are a buyer because it potentially puts you in a stronger negotiating position).

Additionally, our IFAs use a mortgage sourcing system that gives instant access to hundreds of mortgage products from numerous sources, thereby making it easy to satisfy even the most challenging requirements. This includes buy-to-let and remortgages as well. The IFA will then explain the details in a language that you can understand and at a time and pace to suit you. Offers can sometimes be generated surprisingly quickly.

Going further, we can also arrange mortgage protection, buildings and content insurance, legal and survey work during the same meeting, saving buyer and seller a great deal of time. And of course, you'll be kept informed thereafter every step of the way by one of our empathetic team members who are as keen as you that your move is smooth.

The smarter 3 series

Find 1000s of cars locally

BY MATT JOY

BMW's 3 Series has always been a car for all circumstances - fun to drive but practical and comfortable.

Over the years the range has expanded to widen the net still further. The estate Touring, the M3 and the ever-increasing range of diesel offerings meant there has always been a version to suit.

Now there's another side to the 3 Series story with the introduction of the xDrive model.

Four-wheel drive versions outside of the SUV models have been available in Europe since the 1980s, but due to the complexities of right-hand drive conversions it has never made it across to the UK. That's all changed with the 320i xDrive now on sale.

You won't spot any external differences bar the additional badging. The 3 Series is as handsome and clean-cut as ever, with the slimmer nose giving it a more purposeful look.

But this is no pseudo-SUV; it is designed to be just as the regular

Fact File

BMW 320i xDrive SE

£27,730

ENGINE: 2.0-litre petrol unit producing 184bhp
TRANSMISSION: 6-speed manual driving all four wheels
PERFORMANCE: Maximum speed 144mph, 0-62mph 7.4s
ECONOMY: 41.5mpg (combined)
CO₂ RATING: 159g/km

saloon with enhanced traction.

Currently available only with the 2.0-litre turbocharged petrol version, the 320i xDrive is not short of power. The four cylinder unit offers up a handy 184bhp and 199lb.ft of torque, fed to all four wheels through a choice of the six-speed manual or eight-speed automatic gearbox.

But from behind the wheel, initially at least, you'll be hard pressed to notice anything different - which, of course, is the whole point.

The manual gearbox operates just as slickly as before, the clutch is smooth and has no extra weight, although it is above average in that respect, so from the driver's perspective there's nothing extra to worry about.

This is four-wheel drive as an enhancement to performance and safety, not in order to climb mountains. So there are no differential locks or unusual buttons that require your attention.

The 2.0-litre turbo engine almost doesn't feel like one at first either; it is torquey but not at diesel-levels so it pulls cleanly and smoothly right around the rev range with a muted engine note to go with it.

It also bears very close comparison with the standard two-wheel drive car, feeling very brisk rather than hugely rapid.

In less than favourable conditions, the extra traction of the 320i xDrive comes into its own. You can deploy all the available power pretty much at will and the drive will be distributed amongst the wheels with the most grip.

In normal driving, 60 per cent of the power goes to the rear wheels, but this can switch to 100 per cent towards the front or rear if conditions demand it.

Purists may be concerned that this goes against the BMW philosophy as all its cars have rear-wheel drive and have done so since the start, but this is no less a sports saloon than any other 3 Series.

It steers as sweetly as the standard car, despite the slight increase in weight at the front with the additional hardware. And in many respects, it allows you to enjoy all the 3 Series characteristics more of the time.

Pressing on out of a greasy bend would have the traction control light flickering away, where in the 320i xDrive it simply grips hard and accelerates.

Such surety is enormously reassuring, so much so that it's easy to forget about it and simply get on with enjoying the drive.

The price premium is a modest £1,500 or so, which stands comparison with other items on the options list such as a top-grade satnav or audio system.

But neither will contribute as much to your safety and driving pleasure, and unless you have your heart set on oversteer out of every bend, this is a smart way to specify your 3 Series.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Fourteen teams from all over Essex qualified and Church Langley played four matches in their group. They played two teams twice, beating Buckhurst Hill 7-5 and drawing 6-6, before drawing 3-3 and losing 5-4 to Allyn Court.

Josh's stars and stripes in USA camp

ENGLAND U-16s basketball star Josh Steel was the only UK-based player to earn a place at a prestigious camp in the USA to showcase the world's best young talent.

Josh (16), right, of The Hoo in Harlow, was chosen to attend the Jordan Brand Classic International Tour in Brooklyn, New York.

The youngster, who aims to take up the sport professionally, is already 6ft 4ins tall and is a guard for Barking Abbey.

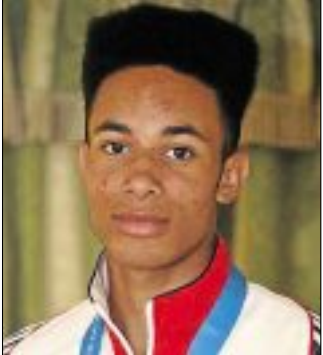

He came up against other top European players and was the only boy from the UK chosen for the camp.

"This is an excellent achievement for Josh," said Barking's Director of Basketball Operations, Lloyd Gardner. "He has been one of the most committed and dedicated players we have had in our programme and this is recognition of the work that has done and the sacrifices he has made over the past three years.

"I am sure that Josh will use this excellent opportunity to both showcase his talent on an elite level and learn from some of the excellent players and coaches that will also be in attendance."

While in America, Josh came up against some of the brightest young stars in the USA.

The tournament was watched by top celebrities including arguably the world's greatest ever basketball player Michael Jordan.

Josh originally attended a three-day camp in Barcelona, featuring the top 40 young players throughout Europe.

From this he earned his place among the 10 best 15- and 16-year-olds and was invited to Brooklyn, along with eight other players chosen from around the world.

As a 14-year-old Josh represented England Under-16s at least year's Division A European Championships, averaging 3.6 points, 3.3 rebounds and 1.2 assists per game.

He was also a part of Great Britain's bronze medal winning team at the Australian Youth Olympic Festival earlier this year.

FINAL JOY: The successful Roydon team (s)

Golden goal seals victory

ROYDON were triumphant in the annual Harlow School Sports Partnership mini hockey festival.

Some 120 Year 5 and 6 boys and girls, representing 12 teams, competed in the event at Mark Hall Sportscentre.

After some hard-fought early group stages Church Langley, Latton Green, Pear Tree Mead and Roydon made it through to the semis.

Latton Green won their semi against Pear Tree Mead and then the drama started!

The next semi went to two periods of extra-time and then a golden goal.

As they could not be separated, it was decided to come back on another day to find a winner.

The semi again went to golden goal extra-time and it looked like history repeating itself until Roydon broke and scored with two seconds left on the clock to make the final.

Roydon then continued their run and beat Latton Green 2-0 in another close final match to become champions for the first time ever.

Henry Moore, Nazeing, St Luke's and Tany's Dell also sent teams for the popular tournament.

George Gardiner, Harlow School Sports Partnership Manager, said: "Everybody who took part in the event did really well and everybody should be pleased with their performance.

"Well done to Church Langley, Latton Green and Roydon for having the grace and sportsmanship to turn up again to play and once again thanks to Harlow College for supporting the event."

Skipper Heskett not carried away by early form

HARLOW skipper Luke Heskett is not getting carried away by his side's Shepherd Neame Essex League (SNEL) cup form and expects a challenging game in the league opener at Hainault this Saturday.

He said: "It will be a tough game and they are one of the best sides in the league. They are good in all areas."

Harlow, who were promoted back in 2011, came seventh in division one in 2012.

Heskett (23), who played cricket in Australia during the winter, feels he has benefited from this experience.

"It is a more aggressive form of cricket and you learn never to take your foot off [an opponent]."

"I have added to my skills. I am also hoping that our younger players have learned a lot from last year."

He added: "I want us to go for fourth or fifth this year."

The class of Ahmed Khawaja with the bat and his slow bowling speaks for itself, while Heskett and Andrew McGarry will provide the quicker bowling, with Rizwan Sadiq another spinner.

"Our three left-arm spinners all bowl in different ways and that gives us variety [and control]," he said.

Batsman Uman Jan has left the club to join Horndon-on-the-Hill.

Kinney's three-day marathon blitz

HARLOW Running Club's prolific Andy Kinney had an exhausting Bank Holiday weekend, running not one but two full marathons and a half marathon!

On the Saturday, Kinney completed the multi-terrain Bewl Water Half Marathon near Tunbridge Wells in Kent, finishing 106th out of 153 finishers in 2 hours, 7 minutes and 25 seconds.

The next day he ran the multi-terrain and very hilly Richmond Park Marathon, finishing in 5:47.02.

Then on a very warm Bank Holiday Monday he ran the Milton Keynes Marathon. He was 1,926th out of 2,041 finishers in an outstanding 5:46.38, 31 seconds quicker than the previous day.

Also running at Milton Keynes, Claire Russell (342nd) made her debut at the distance in a fantastic 3:41.47. Dionne Jones (355th, 3:43.04), Jason Haigh (368th, 3:44.13) and distance debutant Celia Haigh (1,214th, 4:35.42) also competed.

Other results:- Multi-Terrain Fen Drayton 10km (near Cambridge): Paul Schroder 52.11 PB; Wendy Spring 55.06.

Gunpowder Park Run (Waltham Abbey): Robin Lozeau 15th (out of 62), 24.02; Vicky Calver (56th, 33.02).

Police arrest Shoes

HARLOW Police pulled off an unlikely win at Three Shoes who had a very slim chance of winning the Harlow & District League division four title.

Goals from Claudio de Franca and two from Paul Collier saw the boys in blue in control.

Collier was unlucky not to get his hat-trick, hitting the bar.

Club captain's job no strife for Brian

BRIAN Munro has spoken of his pride at being named as Canons Brook Golf Club's 2013 captain as it gears up for its 50th anniversary celebration.

The Elizabeth Way club in Harlow will officially reach 50 on May 18.

Munro (66), pictured right, who first joined the Harlow club in 1971 and has served as president and captain in the past, held his drive-in last month to officially launch his reign as captain.

His tee shot went 161 yards, quite a feat in the almost gale-like conditions and also uphill.

The Scot was previously captain in 1980 and was vice-captain last year.

He was president from 2000 to 2003.

"I was club captain in 1980 which was a great honour at such an age. However, to be elected captain again in this - the club's 50th anniversary year - is the ultimate honour and we are looking forward to a busy and happy year of celebrations," Munro told the Star.

"I have watched the course mature into one of the finest tests of golf in the area and after 42 years of playing here can honestly say that I have never been bored playing the course. The number of members at the recent AGM who were present during my captaincy in 1980 is testimony to the popularity of the course and club."

Munro, who lives in Hunsdon and plays off 15, hopes the anniversary milestone will promote the club and bring new members to this picturesque course tucked away close to the Pinnacles industrial estate.

Canons Brook was used as a course for Essex county competitions in 2012.

Essex Golf Union president John Peters paid tribute to the club as the anniversary rapidly approaches. "On behalf of the Essex Golf Union may I offer hearty congratulations to Canons Brook Golf Club, its members, management and staff on the 50th anniversary of its formation which I hope will be a year of happy memories and time for all those connected with the club to take pride in the occasion and the traditions that have evolved," he said.

The club is hosting an open competition on June 28 to mark the 50th anniversary.

Town's new captain has high hopes

NEW Harlow Town skipper Ashley Alderson has high hopes for his side as they bid to improve on last season's debut in the Shepherd Beame Essex Cricket League (SNEL).

Alderson is targeting promotion from division three for the Ash Tree Field team.

"I am very much looking forward to my first season as skipper. Having finished fourth in our debut season in the SNEL where we learnt a lot about the league and ourselves we are looking to push on this year throughout the club."

"Whilst gaining promotion from division three will be a massive challenge for the first eleven, I believe we have the strength to really compete for a promotion place this year so that is the target."

"The first eleven has an average age of just 26 and a vast majority of us have progressed together through the juniors. We have a fantastic team spirit and there is competition for places throughout the team which I hope will really give us the edge we were lacking a few times last year."

"We have a few new faces [Ben Eversden and Ricky McKinley] joining from other clubs which is a positive sign and for probably the third or fourth season in a row we have not lost any players to other clubs during the winter. This is great for me as 1st XI skipper as we have a consistent group of players to select from. Already this year players like Shaun Alderson, Darryl Pettengell, Matt Hurley and Jack Elston have staked an early claim on a 1st XI place and I expect them to keep up the pressure."

"On the back of our experience from last year we need players to step up and take responsibility, which was often the difference between winning and losing. Ramya [Upadhyay] will again be key with both bat and ball as he has been since he first played for us in 2004."

Batsmen's tons secure spot in cup third round

CENTURIES from Ahmed Khawaja and Rehman Ahmed steered Harlow to a huge 335-4 off just 40 overs and Shepherd Neame Essex League Cup progress away to Leigh-on-Sea.

A third-round trip to fellow division one side Wickford now awaits Luke Heskett's side.

Harlow won the toss and elected to bat but lost Rizwan Sadiq for a duck in the first over.

They were 40-2 when Connor Ramsay was trapped lbw for 22 and the game looked in the balance.

Then a combination of the classy Ahmed and the exceptional talent and power of Khawaja punished the Leigh bowlers.

Boundaries were a constant feature as well as an excellent ability to rotate the strike as both players scored freely.

The pair put on more than 200 before Ahmed was caught in the deep for a brilliant 124.

Khawaja then passed his 100 in the 34th and launched a brutal attack on the Leigh bowlers, adding 64 runs to his score in under six overs with the ball sailing to all corners of the ground as he finished with 164 not out.

Leigh quickly slipped to 41-4 with Andy McGarry, Sadiq and Monger taking a wicket each combined with a Heskett run out.

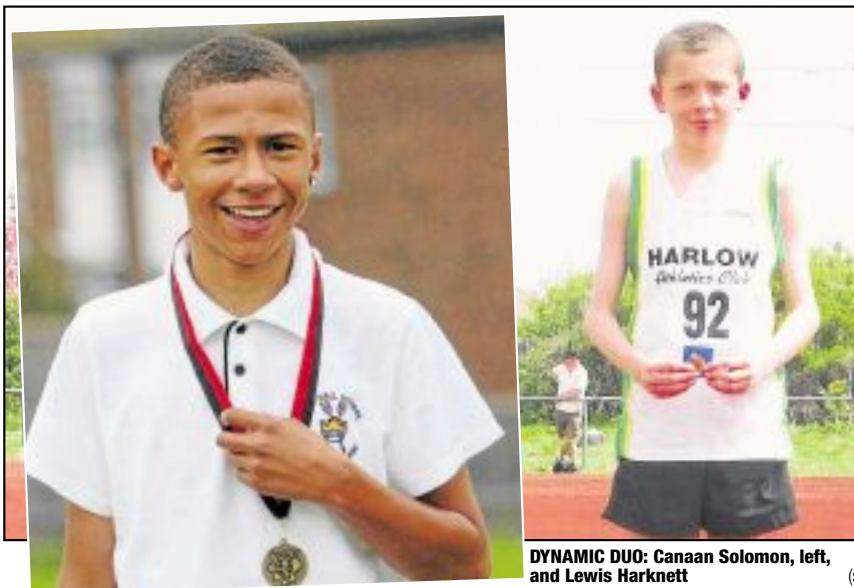

The hosts finished on 226-4 with Sexton not out on 113.

Sadiq was Harlow's best bowler with figures of 1-22 from his 8 overs.

"This was a huge total and the innings from Rehman Ahmed and Ahmed Khawaja were two of the best I have seen in first team cricket and will live long in the memory," said Heskett.

"Rehman's return to form is very timely with the league starting up next week and this performance gives us massive confidence into the Hainault game and sends out a clear statement to our competition that we are a side in form.

"Hainault away is the toughest game in the league but we couldn't be more upbeat going into this game and are confident of getting off to a winning start in the league."

The only way is Essex for town starlets

THERE was a flying start to the Essex Athletic Championships for Harlow's talented young athletes.

Canaan Solomon's stunning gold medal-winning performance in the 1,500metres moved him up to No.1 spot in the UK rankings for U-15 boys, and secured him the title of Essex champion.

The 14-year-old, a student at Mark Hall School and member of Woodford Green AC, easily won his race in 4 minutes, 16.2 seconds.

There was also a massive victory for Harlow Athletic Club (HAC) youngster Lewis Harknett. He was crowned U-13 champion in the 1,500m. His time of 4:55.58 was also a personal best (PB).

Also crowned county champion was 15-year-old Eleanor Moss, a pupil at Passmore School.

She won the U-17 girls javelin with a massive throw of 29.76m.

Both Canaan and Eleanor will represent Essex in an inter-counties matches later this year.

Owen Harknett also secured a PB (5:21.46) in the same race that his twin brother won.

Perry Rowan (16), a Burnt Mill student, ran an excellent race to take silver in the U-17 1,500m in a PB of 4:08.7.

This should gain him selection for Essex later this year.

Teale Cunningham (HAC) claimed silver in the U-13 high jump with a leap of 1.35m.

He then followed this up with bronze in the long jump (4.44m), agonisingly missing out on the silver in the very last jump when he was piped by just three centimetres.

In the U-15 age group, Abbie Campbell (HAC) set a PB with 28.53s in the 200m but progressed no further than the semi-finals.

In the U-17 girls 1,500m, Burnt

Mill's Amelia Barrett enjoyed an excellent race, as did 15-year-old Alicia McArdell (Mark Hall), both shattering their PBs with 4:46 (5th) and 4:55 (6th) respectively.

Rosie Poole (13), a Stewards pupil was third in her U-15 girls 1,500m heat (5:12), a time that she matched when she placed sixth in the final.

Her brother Alfie (11), also at Stewards, was sixth in the U-13 boys 1,500m in a PB of 5:12.

In the U-13 girls 1,200m, Kyesha Robinson (11) was fourth in a PB that puts her 14th in the UK for that distance for U-13 girls.

Mia Hiron (11), a student at St Nicholas, was 13th in the 1,200m with 4 mins 30 secs and Megan Caswell (12), a Burnt Mill student, was 14th in 4:35.

Kieran Bull (HAC) competed in the U-15 boys discus but failed to reach the top six despite throwing over 15m.

Boss so unhappy

MANAGER Danny Chapman made no bones about his decision to do away with an end of season presentation for Harlow Town FC.

The Hawks were due to have their prize-giving on Friday but this was cancelled.

Harlow finished 21st in the 22-team Ryman League division one north but were spared relegation as only one side went down.

Harlow would have come 20th but for a 10-point deduction for a financial breach of a league rule but that would still not have deflected attention from a very bad campaign.

Chapman explained: "You get teams who avoid relegation and celebrate wildly. We do not have to anything to celebrate about this year.

"It was a poor season and I do not see the reason to celebrate. I do not feel it was the right thing to do."

However, Chapman confirmed that the players who won awards will get them.

He would not name the names but said: "We will award them at the beginning of next season."

Masters magic

THREE Harlow Athletic Club veterans helped Chelmsford AC to comprehensive victories in the Essex Midweek Masters League.

Dave Bauer, Paul Avontuur and Dawn Jones competed at Chelmsford.

Bauer threw the hammer 33.72metres for first place in the male 40 age group category with a season's best effort, which now ranks him sixth in the UK M45 age group.

He also threw the shot put in the M40 category 10.48m, for another season best and a first place which now ranks him 13th in the UK Men's 45 age group.

Avontuur hurled the shot 8.55m for first place in the M35 competition.

He is now ranked 28th in the UK M45 age group.

Jones, competing in the female 35 age group, won the 100m in 14.9 seconds.

She also triumphed in the long jump with a leap of 4.18m and then won the high jump with a leap of 1.42m.
